

Practice-oriented continuing education for Life Sciences specialists and executives

Future-oriented continuing education for the next step in your career.

Bring your expertise up to date with our life sciences continuing education – from environmental protection and pharmaceutical management to diagnostics and regulation – and profit from our practice-oriented training.

You can find details of our current continuing education and dates of information events at fhnw.ch/lifesciences/continuing-education.